CARY AUDIO DESIGN ANNOUNCES AN UNPRECEDENTED $1,000 PRICE REDUCTION FOR THE SLP-03 TUBE PREAMPLIFIER

APEX, NC (November, 2011)

In a bold move, Cary Audio has re-positioned their most popular and affordable tube preamplifier, the SLP-03. By reducing the retail price by an incredible $1,000 to an unbelievable retail price of $1,995, Cary Audio is set to capture this price point with a performance to cost ratio others simply cannot offer as is the hallmark of many Cary Audio products.

At $2,995, the SLP-03 was considered one of the best tube preamplifiers in its space with an unheard of features package. Now at $1,995, the SLP-3 has virtually no competition. Highly respected for its warm rich textures thanks to its class A tube circuitry, outstanding resolution and detail of its top-notch parts, full featured remote for relaxed listening, and Cary Audio's famous build quality, the SLP-03 can now be appreciated by a much wider market segment. For those entering into the world of hi-end audio for the first time, or for those seasoned music lovers on a tighter budget, there is no longer any reason to consider anything but new.

With features like, (4) dual triode tubes for true balanced topology, XLR (balanced) and RCA (single-ended) inputs and outputs, class A zero feedback, cinema by-pass, large vacuum florescent display, two separate gain stages, massive dual right/left power transformers and multiple regulated supplies, full function remote control, RS232, amplifier triggers, tape loop, and all discrete analog circuitry, the SLP-03 represents an outstanding musical experience that belies its most modest retail price of $1,995.
